A hand-drawn diagram on a white page. It features several lines: a top horizontal line, a middle horizontal line, and a bottom horizontal line. A vertical line on the left side connects the middle and bottom lines. A diagonal line on the right side connects the top and middle lines. A narrow, elongated shape is drawn at the bottom center, with a vertical line on its right side and a diagonal line on its left side. The label 'A' is located on the right side of the middle horizontal line, and the label 'C' is located near the bottom center, between the diagonal and vertical lines of the narrow shape.
